

Easiest

$ 300

I've ever made in one day

This method involves you using a brand new service that very few people know about and it is called <http://www.filescashout.com/>

This is a PPD (Pay Per Download) site. Usually, these kinds of sites are pretty much useless and they pay you half pennies for every download. If you went to the link, you would see that this site will pay you from $0.30 to $0.60 every single time someone downloads one of the files you uploaded. So first of all go and sign up now.

You may be wondering how come they can afford to pay you that much for such a small task. Well, the reason is that when someone comes to download one of your files, they will be prompted to fill in a CPA offer. Once an offer like this is completed and submitted, the owner gets from $0.30 up to $3+ for every single one. So he can afford to pay us a percentage of that.

In this guide I will show you some great methods that you can put into practice to get tons of downloads on your files and people actually wanting to complete the offers because they would be getting something valuable or unique in return.

Filescashout.com also allows you to upload files remotely. So you don't have to always download the files you want to share on your computer before uploading them.

Here are my last month's earnings in case you're interested.

How to hide your links:

1. Use services like:

<http://tinyurl.com/>

<http://bit.ly/>

<http://tu.nu/>

2. Use free domains:

http://www.freedomain.co.nr/signup_basic.php

<http://nic.biz.ly/>

<http://www.co.cc/>

<http://www.dot.tk/>

<http://free-name.org/>

http://www.freedomainsite.com/free_domain_details.htm

3. Use legit sharing sites:

Some people may be skeptical about downloading from a diff. file sharing site than the one they are used to, so what you will do is upload an archive including a text file and a broken file to something like rapidshare.com or mediafire.com. In the text file, you will say something like: if the main download is corrupted, use this mirror to download: ##FC Link##

4. The best way – Use ultraupload.info

This is a script I've built for such sites and it will help hide your link in such a way that almost everybody will proceed to download your files.

Go to <http://ultraupload.info/specialcookie.php>

And paste your Sharing link from filescashout
Click on get link and there you have your new transformed, cloaked link.

Now off to the methods.

#1- YA for Quick bucks

First of all, you need a corrupted file of about 60-90 MB. In order to obtain that, get a video or music file on your computer that has that size and rename it to “g.ttf-CrK-Rls.rar” (do any letters you want, as long as it looks like a warez release archive). If you can’t find a file that size on your computer, simply open up notepad and paste in a lot of random text in there. Save the file as a text and check the size. If it’s too small, paste in more text and save again. When you got the right size, rename that to .rar . Now you should have a corrupted archive that looks like a real one. So when people download it and try to open it up, they will think there’s something wrong with their computer or – best case scenario they will think that the download didn’t go well so they will try to download it again.

Now go to

<http://answers.yahoo.com/>

and make an account if you don’t already have one.

Go to advanced search and search for key phrases like “where can I download”, “where to download”, etc. Search for keyword match in questions.

On the results page, open up each of the links in a new tab on your browser and copy/paste the next answer:

“Here, I found this link on a forum. Hope it works for you: ###”

“I got it from this link: ###”

“You can download that from here: ###”

“My friend got it from here: ### . She says it worked well for her.”

Mix it up and rinse and repeat. Do this with all the questions that you find and then to scale it up create multiple accounts and post questions on how to download some of the latest games or movies or any other thing that you think might be interesting to a lot of people. Post an answer with the link from another account, then go back and vote your answer as the best answer. Scale – Scale – Scale.

There's no reason to provide real download links here. You don't need people to come back and download from you. This is just for the quick bux.

For extra credit, make sure you add that corrupted file to another archive and password it. Upload the password in a text file. Include the link to the password in the archive's description. Boom Boom Boom ChaChing.

Now Yahoo answers is just an example that is real easy to understand and implement and you are probably familiar with it. But think about it. You can do this – for one – with any answers site(wikianswers, answers.com), but you can also “contribute” on any forum or chatroom where people request stuff. On these places you will probably want to use real files, so that people who are requesting at least get what they are looking for.

Another thing you can do is run the same search query on google: "where can I download" and go from there.

I can't give you the exact thing to do and the right sites to post on. The places you find on your own will be yours to profit from and nobody else will know about them unless they find them by accident.

For the forums part, you can go to alexa.com and find the top ranked warez forums. Register and go to the requests section on there. You should get plenty of downloads.

#2- about the changes

This is what I do; if you're not ok with it, use other types of files. I'll try and use small steps so anyone can follow along...

Step 1:

Go to your favorite porn file sharing site and get some photo sets. By sets I mean one girl... or two of them stripping and all that(not getting into too much detail here).

But do that. You'll understand what I mean later on.

Step 2:

Download winrar, install it...

Step 3:

Choose one of those photosets you downloaded;

Step 4:

Create a new text file and call it "pwd_for_<photoset name here>"

In this file only type something like "sdfbg76346#$$@trew" and save it.
This will be your password

Step 5:

Upload this file to filescashout.com

Step 6

Create a new text file, write something like this in there:

I'm really sorry, but I had to password my files, or else the file host would recognize this is porn and delete them.

Anyways, you can get the password here:

<masked password file link here>

Save the file as "PASSWORD.txt"

Step 7

(passwording the file)

Get the photoset you chose and put it in a folder by itself. Right click on that folder and select "Add to archive...". This should bring up Winrar.

Click on the Advanced tab --> Set Password --> check "Show password" and leave "Encrypt file names" unchecked.

Open the pwd file that you uploaded and copy that password over.

Click Ok and ok again.

After the process is done, open that archive and drag and drop the PASSWORD.txt file into it. To make extra sure that people will know where to get the password from click on the "comment" button and paste in the contents of the PASSWORD.txt file.

Step 8

Now you are ready to upload this file to filescashout.com and convert its link to a masked link.

After that, you can delete the archive, but not the folder that contains the photos. You will need that for your "marketing".

Step 9

(Preparing for the release)

Right now you have to prepare your links for posting on forums. For every photo set that you have uploaded you must now make a new text document. This document will contain your post.

So this is how it should look like:

Title: Photoset Title Super HOT!!! I can't believe it(blah blah blah whatever... something catchy)

Post:

[screenshot code]

[links]

enjoy! :D

To get the screenshot code you just go to a photo hosting website that allows 18+ pics (example: imagebam.com) and upload one pic then get the bbcode which should look something like this:

[URL=http://www.imagebam.com/image/somecodehere][IMG]http://thumbnails.imagebam.com/3666/somecodehere.jpg[/IMG][/URL]

Do this with all the sets and you are ready to post

Step 10

(getting your links seen)

a) register to forums

First of all, go to google.com and type in

"porn +forum" or "xxx +forum"

Stuff like that. Now find a bunch of forums that seem to have a lot of members and register to them. You can use roboform to speed up the process .

At this point you should be registered to 10-15 porn forums.

b) post on forums and sort out the good ones (the ones that don't give you any problems when you try to make your first post)

Now that you are registered, what you have to do is start posting. Go to the image category, click on new post and get all the info from the text documents you created earlier.

If all goes well, bookmark that forum for later use and go to the next one. If anything goes wrong, skip it. Don't waste more than 1 minute for each post. Some forums will require a minimum number of posts before you can start a thread. Skip those. Because usually these are the ones that are being watched closely by admins and your posts will get deleted anyways.

c) do this with all your sets. What I mean by that is start a megathread and post all your sets in the same thread by replying to the main one.

d) here's how you get to watch your downloads grow.

The chan way:

Pick one of the chan sites:

4chan.org
24chan.org
bokuchan.org
03chan.org
420chan.org
fapchan.org junkuchan.org kusabax.org
plus4chan.org
7chan.org
99chan.org
brochan.org megachan.net
wangdangle.org

Remember: this is not about spamming these sites. You are simply offering something they say they want.

step 1: go to a chan to the "Sexy Beautiful Women" section step 2: don't get distracted step 3: upload one pic from a photoset and write on there something like "a hot ass chick I found on the internet"

step 4: every 2 minutes bump that post by replying to it with another picture from the set and no extra comments step 5: make sure these pics are in order and that they don't spoil the fun (they have to want to see more, so don't show them everything but at the same time let them know there's more where that came from) step 6: by the 3rd post you should already have replies like "rs","moar","sauce", etc. And here's the trick:

step 7: your reply "here's the link I found on a forum. [cloaked link] . There password is "#@$@WER$Tsdf" sauce:[link to your big thread on a forum]"

So here's what's happening: first of all, you are offering them something they want. Then you gain their trust by giving them the password. So if they had any doubts they're gone by now.

If they are truly desperate people they will most likely check out the megathread and download some links from over there too. And guess what? You didn't provide the passwords for those too.

Anyways, now you are getting downloads and you look legitimate so nobody will report you.

Now to scale this, here's what you can do: use proxies and reply to your own threads to make them stick or just say thanks. Use different sections of the site with different types of pictures.

Be on the lookout for more forums to post on. You will get constant downloads from there as well.

extra tips: -don't reply to your threads too fast, or it will be considered flood and it will be taken down imediately.

#3

Needed: Blog/Site, Youtube account.

1. Pick a popular upcoming/current event (ex. 2010 World Cup)
2. Go on Youtube and make a video saying something like : Watch World Cup qualifiers here (You can post a random soccer game)
3. Cover the whole video screen with an annotation saying due to a copyright claim you were asked to remove the video but they can visit your site to watch the game and post a link to your blog or site
4. Find a short clip of a soccer game somewhere and upload it to filescashout
5. Post the link on your site saying it's a World Cup qualifier game

Now this is just a basic example, you can choose your own events

(Micheal Jackson stuff, etc.) and use any tools you have (Youtube spammers, etc.) to make your life easier.

#4 – Youtube again

Just post any video that you think would be popular and put a download link in the description bar. This will bring you residual income.

#5- Create a Blog

One of the best methods to do this that will get you recurring downloads over the next couple of months is creating a downloads blog. It can be about the latest games, brand new movies, porn movies/pics, magazines, you name it. Think about what you would go out and download for yourself. On one of these blogs you would need to have at least 50 posts and they should all be brand new files that are hot at the moment. You can find these files on most warez forums:

WAREZ SITES:

<http://www.scriptthief.com>

<http://www.iranjava.net>

<http://www.warez-bb.org>

<http://www.ebooktheguru.blogspot.com>

<http://www.phazedd1.com>

<http://www.astalavista.box.sk>

<http://www.astalavista.ms>

<http://www.warezrepublic.net>

<http://www.yagbu.net>

<http://www.forum.astalavista.ms> or torrent sites.

After you have created your blog, you will have to promote it exactly like you would with any other site.

Here are some quick tips for doing that:

- Post your link in the signature at warez forums
- Create a twitter account, get followers then send them your link
- Submit your site to all the services like google and yahoo
- Build some links
- Upload torrents and include a shortcut to your site along with the files

For more advanced traffic generating methods use

<http://bookoftraffic.com/>

A really good way to get people to actually visit your site is send them a message on youtube like this:

"Hey $$NAME$$!

Check out my website: www.4w35ertg.blogspot.com

You can download free E-Books and software from there.

Here's the deal, check out my website, download at least one thing, then PM me back naming what you downloaded, and i will subscribe to you! :D
Hope to hear back from ya!"

EVERYONE will want another easy subscriber, so they will check out your site. IT WORKS

#6 – Craigslist

Basically you get a webcam video of a hot girl and take some screen caps and upload them to filescashout.com.

Post on craigslist in the Adult Gigs section that you want someone to rate a video of yourself because you are thinking about going into the adult business. Say you don't have to be a professional but you need to be professional about it or mature. Give your measurements also and make yourself sound legit. You will get a bunch of emails of guys trying to be professional.

This is what i would email them back:

"Hey (name here), thanks for responding, im excited to hear what you think of my video.

heres a pic from the video. and the link is below.

i would like a rating of 1-10 at the least and any other comments are welcome.

Thanks

-"Angela"

Don't forget to reword the whole thing. This has been used thousands of times before.

This is just an idea, but get creative and you will come up with tons of great new ones. Clue: Jobs section/application form /pdf/corrupted file .

This was just for a quick blast of cash. In the next email I will start showing you methods that will keep getting you money on a recurring basis. Set and forget.

Until then, make sure you put all of this into practice. It's so easy, it's unbelievable. You just have to take the decision to do it and do it.
